A century of faithful service

One hundred years ago in war-torn Russia, a humanitarian crisis captured the attention of Anabaptists in North America. In 1920, Mennonites in Canada and the United States compassionately reached out to their struggling brothers and sisters who were facing hunger, disease and conflict, and MCC was born.

For 100 years, the legacy of that monumental decision and incredible generosity continued to grow through the compassion of people like my grandmother, Margaret. After escaping hunger and violence in present-day Ukraine and settling in Manitoba, Margaret spent much of her time knitting and crocheting items for the Winkler MCC Thrift Shop so that shoppers could clothe their children in the harsh winter. She never stopped using her skills and resources to give back and support others in need.

Margaret passed away a few years ago, but her story continues to inspire my own service. And I am unceasingly encouraged by Manitobans like you who also faithfully share your prayers, worship, volunteer time, financial gifts, hospitality and other resources in service to needs locally and globally. Even as the pandemic began, you were generous beyond expectation. Through a scripture card that sits on my desk, I am reminded daily that the relief, development and peacebuilding work of MCC is part of God’s call to reconcile ourselves to the peoples of this world and to God who reconciles us. I am grateful for the ways this ministry of reconciliation is carried out by people like you, people like my grandmother.

Thank you for making this work possible!

Joyfully in Christ,

MCC MANITOBA LEADERSHIP TEAM

RECONCILIATION

MCC continues to be committed to building right relationships with one another, God and creation. MCC’s work and relationships extend into all five numbered treaties that cover the province. We acknowledge the harms that have been committed to the Indigenous peoples of this land by those of us who have settled here, and we strive toward reconciliation in our words and deeds.

MCC Manitoba seeks to prioritize equity, justice and Indigenous self-determination according to the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. Thank you for walking with us through events like the We Are All Treaty People Celebration and by hosting Blanket Exercises with your community.

COMMUNITY GIVING

Your generosity helped exceed our goal for Grow Hope in 2019. A remarkable 360 acres were sponsored! These gifts of $300 per acre helped raise more than $160,000 which, through government matching, could grow up to four times! Every dollar makes a difference in the lives of people who are hungry and have no other support. A huge thank you to the kindness of our donors and dedication of our farmers!

Every year we are reminded of how incredibly fortunate we are to have such an amazing community of volunteers and supporters. Last year, volunteers helped organize four amazing community fundraisers to support the needs of vulnerable and displaced people around the world.

We are so grateful for the many ways you engaged in acts of giving and participation whether by hosting a fundraising event, spreading the word about MCC or by inviting us into your church or faith community to speak about relief, development and peace. Thank you for joining us in our mission toward a just world.

GREAT WINTER WARM-UP In January, celebrations of MCC’s centennial year kicked off with a blanket-collection event called the Great Winter Warm-up. Volunteers at approximately 14 locations across Manitoba picked up a needle and thread to sew more than 3,200 comforters of the 9,400 collected across Canada and the U.S., setting a new record for MCC.

Many of the volunteers who sew MCC comforters can only imagine the lives of the people who might receive the blankets they stitch. People who have fled their homes because of conflict or disaster. But Tina Schulz knows first-hand what it’s like to receive a handmade blanket in a time of need.

As a teenager, Schulz’s family fled Berlin for Paraguay aboard the ship Volendam where they received a handsewn blanket, not that different from the blankets MCC continues to distribute today.

“To think of the blankets that were shipped overseas and given to us because we didn’t have anything. It was not just a small thing,” said Schulz. “There were thousands of passengers on the ship and all the families got it. There were not only blankets, there were clothes and shoes, and MCC provided all that.”

Because of our caring community of supporters like you, more people displaced from their homes due to conflict, disaster or poverty will receive comfort and care. Your support of events like the Great Winter Warm-up and donations of supplies like relief kits, hygiene kits, and school kits are a tangible message that people’s needs are not forgotten — thank you!

MCC’S WORK IN MANITOBA

On March 17, Almaz Gebresilassie and Hermon Asher (pictured left) arrived in Manitoba mere hours before the federal government announced international travel restrictions due to COVID-19.

Although physical distancing meant there couldn’t be a group of smiling Manitobans at the bottom of the escalator as initially planned, Almaz and Hermon still had a warm welcome from their brother-in-law and uncle Biniam Debesay (pictured above, second from right). Biniam’s family was sponsored by the same community group – the Boissevain Resettlement Committee – three years earlier. Your heart for the plight of refugees means MCC can walk alongside sponsorship groups who help reunite families.

Your faithful commitment also means MCC can be active right here in Manitoba. MCC works towards peace and reconciliation in all aspects of our work, partnering with local agencies to build stronger and safer communities. Together, with your support, we help those impacted by abuse, educate church communities on how to prevent abuse, and help youth and young adults gain employable skills. Thank you for your ongoing support!

Because you care for our global neighbours, an Eritrean family was reunited in Manitoba this spring.

“I don’t know how we would have done it without MCC. Having that strong connection over generations, through the Mennonite folks that originally came here and now to see that come full circle, it’s pretty amazing.”

Casey Guenther, co-chair of the Boissevain Resettlement Committee

MCC THRIFT

There’s always something special to find at an MCC Thrift shop. In Winnipeg, shoppers are greeted by a unique volunteer at the MCC Furniture Thrift Store. Her name’s Polly and she’s a rare polydactyl kitten who has six toes on each paw. Polly and her co-volunteer Charles De Silva (pictured left) help customers find great items during their visit.

Manitobans hunting for a good deal at an MCC Thrift shop helped raise an incredible $2.9 million towards MCC’s local and global relief, development and peace work and helped thrift shops give back additional financial support to local organizations in their communities.

Thank you to the dedicated and passionate volunteers, managers, donors and treasure hunters who make a difference daily in our thrift shops!

SAM’S PLACE

More than 75 youth and young adults gained employable skills through MCC’s social enterprise located in the Chalmers/Elmwood neighbourhood of Winnipeg. Thanks to external grant funding, Sam’s Place was also able to hire three program participants in paid supervisor positions last year.

Kamryne Maytwayashing (pictured right) participated in the program last year, and it was her first experience in a workplace. “I love it here,” says Kamryne. “It’s a happy place to be. The volunteers who work here are very nice and welcoming.”

CANADA
A THANK YOU FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

One hundred years ago, MCC began in response to drought, hunger and violence. Canadians were quick to respond even while they were recovering from a flu pandemic.

Now we mark our centennial in the midst of another pandemic with the world on the brink of a food shortage due to COVID-19. This 100-year comparison reminds us that the world continues to be haunted by disparity, with many people vulnerable to disease and hunger.

At the same time, I am so thankful for generous supporters like you who reach out with God’s love to these neighbours. With your help, our vital, Jesus-following ministry continues into another century.

When the pandemic shutdown began in Canada, we were within days of approving a new strategic plan. It was a strange time to look into the future. But I believe the strategic directions (on the opposite page) will be a strong guide.

This is the MCC I see moving into our next century: Deepening our gospel roots. Strengthening Anabaptist communities. Communicating with supporters with excellence and transparency. Supporting the uprooted with fierce commitment. Responding to climate change. Pressing for the peace of Jesus Christ.

Thank you so much for helping us come this far. I hope you will feel invited into a second century of MCC ministry, rooted in the peace Jesus gave us.

RICK COBER BAUMAN
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, MCC CANADA

“God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.”
—Psalm 46:1 (NRSV)
Living in rural Cambodia, Chim Yean* had an empty fishpond, a handful of chickens and no hope for things to improve.

During the rice growing season, he could harvest enough so his family wouldn’t starve. But during the dry season, there were many days where his family didn’t have enough food.

But your act of kindness planted a seed of hope for Yean. Through MCC’s account at Canadian Foodgrains Bank, you’ve enabled our local partners to form and support farm cooperatives. For $120, one family is equipped with all the seeds, tools and materials they need to farm. And $360 can provide a new fishpond.

Yean’s fishpond allows him to both raise and sell fish and keep a supply of water for his crops during the dry season. He now has a busy and full chicken coop, a stocked fishpond and a healthy garden year-round. He has enough food for his family and enough to store up and sell too.

“If people want fish, I will catch fish for them,” he says. “If people want vegetables, I will bring vegetables to sell to them. Sometimes people want chickens. So, I will sell the chickens.”

* In Cambodia, family names are written before first names.

Food program highlights:

People attended agriculture and animal production training: 58,075

People received agricultural supplies including seeds and tools: 22,302

79% Of women in a farming group in Burkina Faso were able to access a loan when they couldn’t before

398 to 6,747 The increase in number of farmers practicing sustainable agriculture in a project in Ethiopia

Your donations helped Yean grow enough food to feed his family.

“I bought everything at market before, the vegetable, fish and chicken. Now I grow everything.”

Igor Semyonov’s smile has a comforting warmth to it. Most would never guess he spent five terms in prison before turning his life around. He loved helping people, prisoners especially. But when war came to his doorstep in Donetsk, Ukraine, he found himself needing help he never imagined.

He fled to Zaporizhzhia where an MCC church partner fed and sheltered him until he was able to get back on his feet.

Now he and his wife Larisa have their own apartment. On their bed is an MCC comforter. Their shelves hold cans of meat with the words “In the name of Christ” donated and canned by volunteers and then shipped to Ukraine. Sending one shipping container of food and relief supplies to help Igor and others like him costs $7,800.

After training from another MCC partner, Igor now works as a trauma counsellor. He helps people who also were displaced from their homes. A ripple effect of caring set off by you.

“The training has also helped me leave the past behind. Because our life in the past was quite hard, it was hard to do,” says Igor. “Really for two years there was such turmoil inside, we really needed to leave that and regain ourselves.”

“IT was very scary to move to an unknown place…. [MCC’s partner] was really taking care of us.”

Naomi Bakeka Anuarite was used to feeling hopeless. Raised in Mubimbi, a camp for displaced people in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, it was hard some days to imagine surviving to 18, never mind graduating from high school.

Naomi had no access to education and no way to secure a good job. But that’s no longer her reality.

Your support means Naomi and children from a few nearby camps can access a full Grade 1–12 education at the nearby Rutshunda Primary School. For $78, a single child can attend a year of school and have the equipment they need to succeed.

Naomi graduated from Rutshunda and is now attending medical school at the Evangelical University in Africa. With education in math and science and the ability to read and write in both French and Swahili, Naomi now has opportunities for well-paying jobs and careers that would never have been open to her before. She is determined to become a doctor and help others, including her mother and younger siblings who still live in Mubimbi.

“Our joy is to see displaced children taught,” says Rutshunda’s principal Joel Maombi Fikiri. “Instead of seeing those children in the town, among the armed groups… we want to see them in the classroom.”

Aïchatou Hamidou hated giving her grandchildren water that tasted like rust and dirt. She hated more that they barely knew the taste of safe, clean drinking water.

She lives in a refugee camp in Chad called Kobiteye. Until recently, a handful of barely functioning hand pumps were the only way to collect water that was mostly safe to drink.

A new, more reliable hand pump costs $1,983. Your generous support means that more than a dozen new pumps now provide clean, safe water for Aïchatou, her grand-children and the 6,000 others living in Kobiteye.

And along with lifegiving water, you’ve also provided Kobiteye with latrines and WASH (water, sanitation and hygiene) training for Aïchatou. She leads Kobiteye’s WASH team and ensures waste is safely cleaned up and the pumps stay in repair.

“We have seen such a positive impact,” she says. “We now have clean water to drink and there is less sickness. I hope it means my grandchildren will have opportunities that I didn’t.”
In rural Nepal, resources for mental health support are few and far between. There are many stories of people being imprisoned or worse in response to their trauma.

Your support meant that Kamala Sapkota could attend a mental health and rehabilitation program, which costs approximately $1,300 per person. And when she graduated, Kamala was no longer defined by her mental health. Her family was also taught how they could best support her.

Upon graduating the program, she received two baby goats that allow her to create income for herself. With supports in place and financial independence, Kamala’s life was in her own hands once again.

“We have realized that medicines are not the only thing that is needed and there is much more all of us as a family, friends and neighbours can do to support people going through these difficulties to help them be healthy. We are her supports now. We are with her,” says Kamala’s sister Pompa Humagaim.

- 10,615 People received training as health care workers, community health promoters and caregivers
Because of your donations, Hannah is more empowered to work for justice.

There was one strong image that Hannah Gray held in her heart after attending the MCC Ottawa Office student seminar. A kaleidoscope of monarch butterflies safely carrying a humpback whale through the air.

When she painted the image for an art exhibit, she explained the imagery. The butterflies represent the dignity and resilience of migrants and the right that all beings have to move freely. She added the humpback whale, which also migrates, precisely because it’s so different from the butterflies.

“I wanted this painting to emphasize that sometimes we are taken off of our regular routes of migration and that people can end up in unexpected or difficult situations and that it is important for us to work together (as the butterflies in this picture) to help our fellow migrants on their journey even if they are very different from us,” she says.

Your faithful donations meant Hannah could attend the student peace seminar last year. The theme was People on the Move: Human Rights and Global Migration.

Hannah left the seminar feeling more empowered than ever to seek justice.

“I wanted to compel people to a global and personal action based on our faith,” said Hannah. “We’re beneficiaries of our culture and our history, and we have to recognize that means participating in the story of migration.”

Peace + Justice highlights:

- 22,951 People trained in conflict transformation, peacebuilding or mediation
- 1,321 Emails sent by Canadians to MPs and senators using MCC’s letter writing tool
- 100% Of members in one South Sudan peace club applied peacebuilding or conflict resolution in their lives
- 65% Of parents saw improvement in how their daughters handled challenges after an empowerment project in Jordan called SuperGirls

“IT IS IMPORTANT FOR US TO WORK TOGETHER … TO HELP OUR FELLOW MIGRANTS ON THEIR JOURNEY.”

No matter what she tried, Gilchen Davalillo couldn’t make enough money to feed her family. The Venezuelan economy was in shambles, with hyperinflation pricing even daily bread beyond her reach.

So, she made a brave and incredibly difficult choice. She left to seek opportunity somewhere else. When she arrived in Quito, the capital of Ecuador, her family was one of thousands who’d fled for the same reasons. Jobs, housing and hope seemed just as impossible to find.

But because of your support, Gilchen’s journey did not end there.

You’ve empowered a partner church in Quito to support Gilchen and her family with housing, trauma support and food. It costs $98 for the church to provide families like Gilchen’s with monthly food baskets. Without this food, many families could not survive in Quito.

Your act of love means her family, and many others, have new opportunities to thrive.

- Refugees came to Canada through MCC’s sponsorship program from:
  - Syria: 39%
  - Eritrea: 20%
  - Somalia: 6%
  - DR Congo: 6%
  - Other countries (Ethiopia, Iraq, Pakistan, Myanmar (Burma), Sudan, South Sudan, Burundi, Afghanistan, Iran and more): 29%
Every year MCC Thrift shops help reduce clothing waste and raise millions of dollars to support MCC’s work around the world. This is only possible because of volunteers like 93-year-old Jacob Fehr.

Jacob spends many of his free hours cutting denim squares out of old pairs of jeans. Those squares are packaged and sold through MCC Thrift shops. This is great for thrifty quilters, and it helps keep clothes that might otherwise be thrown away out of the landfill. Since 2017, Jacob has delivered more than 700 bundles of denim squares to Thrift shops — around 90,000 squares.

Global Service Learning

One evening, Minear Mak’s Colombian host family made spaghetti for dinner. But Minear, from Cambodia, was surprised to see they were going to use a fork instead of chopsticks to eat noodles. What followed was a giggle-filled evening as Minear shared chopstick lessons and a part of her culture.

This is the kind of cross-cultural exchange Minear experienced through the Young Anabaptist Mennonite Exchange Network (YAMEN). The program also helped her learn about her faith identity. “It’s not about being Asian or Latina but being a woman who is adorned with the beauty of Christ,” she says.

To celebrate MCC’s centennial, we set out to collect 6,500 comforters at The Great Winter Warm-up events across Canada, the U.S. and Europe. Though January 18, 2020 saw major winter storms at many locations, hard-working volunteers helped us surpass the goal: we collected more than 9,400 comforters! Thanks to everyone who helped cut, sew and tie these blankets. They will provide warmth and comfort to displaced and vulnerable people around the world.

We are so thankful for the families, churches and volunteers that pack, sew and donate relief supplies to be shared with our global neighbours.

Material resources shipped last year:

- 849,024 Canned meat (lbs)
- 94,073 Relief kits
- 55,180 Infant care kits
- 47,830 Comforters
- 21,724 School kits
- 6,289 Sewing kits
- 1,200 Hygiene kits

Ten Thousand Villages

With heavy hearts, MCC announced the closure of Ten Thousand Villages Canada corporate operations in early 2020.

The beginnings of Ten Thousand Villages in 1946 – when Edna Ruth Byler first sold handicrafts from the trunk of her car – launched a global fair-trade movement. For 74 years, the stores have helped ensure artisans all over the world are paid first and fairly for their work. These values helped spark a movement that saw more and more people embrace ethical and sustainable shopping.

We are grateful for the faithful work of every single Ten Thousand Villages Canada artisan, staff member and volunteer who contributed to this legacy. And don’t forget, you can still shop online at tenthousandvillages.com or at one of the four independent stores still open in Canada (or in shops across the U.S.).

Ten Thousand Villages used its Artisan Relief Fund to help ensure the legacy of fair trade after Canadian shops closed. The fund provided artisans with financial support as they found new avenues to sell their crafts.

A representative from an artisan group in Bali says, “Thank you very much…. You’re really a fair trade soul. Words are not enough to describe; your support comes at the right time.”
