Assignment Narrative:

St Andrew’s Refugee Services (StARS) is a refugee service provider in central Cairo that works to enhance the quality of life for refugees and vulnerable migrants through three broad programs: education, legal, and psychosocial services. They provide high-quality services meeting the unaddressed needs of refugees and provide a safe and inclusive space for displaced people to come together as a community. They serve people from many places, including Ethiopia, Iraq, Sudan, South Sudan, Somalia, Eritrea, and Syria.

StARS’ mission is to enhance the quality of life of refugees in Egypt and make their rights a reality through client-centered programs. Their vision is a safe, inclusive and supportive environment for refugees in which they can exercise their rights, pursue their aspirations, and live in dignity. To learn more, see: www.stars-egypt.org.

Often the work of StARS takes place in a very crowded office where workers are generally four to a desk, two on each side facing each other. There is a lot of noise and activity in the room, with people constantly moving in and out of the room.

StARS’ Psychosocial Services assist refugees and other vulnerable migrants who are in need of support with medical, mental health or social needs, such as shelter, security, community support, and general well-being and integration in Cairo. This support is provided through seven psychosocial programs:

- Adults and Families Psychosocial Program – one-to-one psychosocial support through case-management with adults and families in need.
- Unaccompanied Children and Youth Psychosocial Program – one-to-one psychosocial support through case management with children who are in Egypt without their parents.
- Unaccompanied Youth Bridging Program – academic and psycho-educational classes for unaccompanied children and youth.
- Medical Access Program – information and services to address unmet medical needs
- Groups and Activities Psychosocial Program – psychosocial and recreational groups, activities and workshops with refugees at StARS and in refugee communities.
- Direct Assistance Program – distribution of clothes, food, hygiene items and other direct assistance.
- Drop-in and Emergency Response Program – drop-in clinic for clients wishing to access services from any of the psychosocial programs.

Assistance is provided by a range of staff, predominantly psychosocial caseworkers who come from refugee communities themselves.

The SALTer will be placed into the psychosocial program that most suits the skills and interests of the individual, as well as the needs of the psychosocial department. Specifically, this will be either with the Unaccompanied Youth unit or the Adult and Families unit.

The SALTer will work under the supervision of the Director of Psychosocial Services. The individual will be provided with training, support and supervision throughout their time working with the program.

Duties:

- Provide direct services to refugees, including through information, advice and support to refugee clients, either on a one-to-one basis, or in groups.
• Be a support role to the relevant program coordinator and to the psychosocial workers, providing administrative and technical assistance with programming, monitoring, and training.
• Additional duties will be based on the needs of the program and the SALTer’s interests and abilities.

Location Description:

Cairo is a bustling metropolis of 22 million people and streets are crowded and busy at all hours of the day and night. Cultural opportunities abound including museums, art galleries, theatre, ancient monuments, lectures, shopping, and restaurants. Egypt’s ancient sites, natural beauty and cultural attractions are generally affordable and easy to access for day trips and longer holidays. Western consumer products, services and entertainment are readily available, and prices are affordable; however, MCCers are expected to live a simple lifestyle and live within budget guidelines.

The commute to work for this assignment includes Cairo’s fairly dependable metro system and walking on busy downtown streets. There is an extensive and inexpensive network of trains, buses and taxis between and within towns and cities and MCC workers primarily use this public transportation system. Good medical care is available. The weather is hot for five months, cool for three, and beautifully pleasant with warm sunny days and cool evenings for the four months in between.

Outside of Egyptian church services (various Protestant denominations or Orthodox) in Arabic, possibilities for worshiping in English in Cairo include four or five Protestant or non-denominational congregations, Catholic Mass opportunities in several locations (and various other languages), a Quaker meeting and a monthly Coptic Orthodox Mass and Bible study in English.

The MCC Egypt team consists of about 7-10 people, although numbers fluctuate. The team endeavors to be supportive of each other and to create a good spirit of cooperation, mutual service and fun. The whole MCC group gathers monthly for events such as worship, business meetings, parties, retreats, lectures and field trips.

Challenges:

• The COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect countries around the world. While we remain hopeful that the pandemic will have stabilized by August 2021, to prioritize the well-being and limit risk to our participants and the local community, assessments of each assignment will continue on a regular basis. If it is deemed that an assignment is no longer viable, we will do our best to help you secure an alternative assignment.
• The challenges of an MCC assignment in Cairo are basically the challenges of living in a big city. It is noisy, polluted and crowded, with significant time spent getting from one place to another. It can be difficult to build meaningful relationships with others who are caught up in hectic daily lives.
• Cairo comes alive at night, in all its exuberance and noise - and when neighbors are celebrating, sleep can be difficult. It is essential that all MCCers in Egypt live by the lifestyle guidelines as MCC is in Egypt in partnership with the churches and we are accountable to the church, MCC and the community.
• Egypt is not as safe as it once was. Random sporadic violence continues. Theft and vandalism are on the rise partly due to high unemployment rates, low wages and reduced security. MCC Egypt regularly adapts and adjusts security policies to reflect current security realities. These policies include restrictions on social media postings and mobility both inside and outside of Cairo.

• Personal frustration can arise as a result of rude behavior and harassment in the street, especially for women. In conversation with others, workers find ways to decrease the likelihood of such encounters, learn to recognize dangerous situations and cope so that the frustration does not become overwhelming. At the same time, there are kind, helpful and respectful strangers on Egyptian streets. In general, streets are safer than those of most large cities in Canada and the U.S.

• The local area and churches are not supportive to LGBTQ+ persons. LGBTQ+ lifestyles are considered illegal. Support of or participation in such lifestyles can be dangerous.

• Managing frustration when things don’t turn out as expected can be hard. While we do our best to determine and outline job responsibilities with our local partners, assignments really come alive based on the passions, skills, and giftings of an individual. Responsibilities may change or be refined over time in communication with supervisors to meet the ongoing changes and needs within a local context. As such, the greatest characteristics a participant can bring to an assignment are adaptability, flexibility, patience, a willingness to get your hands dirty, and humility to complete even mundane tasks.

• For those who are very task oriented, it can be a challenge to recognize the importance of “being” instead of always “doing” as building healthy relationships and mutually transformative learning is an important part of the participant experience. We hope participants will come with a desire to walk alongside our local partners, rather than see the assignment solely as a way to "get things done".
