Dhamtari Christian Hospital is a large, self-supporting hospital begun by Mennonite Church missionaries in the early 20th century. While North American Mennonites no longer subsidize any part of the hospital’s program or operations, the hospital continues to welcome American Mennonite friends, with an open invitation for medical personnel to serve in short-term assignments. While North American Mennonite missionaries operated and supported Dhamtari Christian Hospital for its first 50 years, the hospital now has a long history of independence and local direction.

The Dhamtari Christian Nursing School and College adds an important dimension to the hospital’s ministry as well, and the nursing education programs have grown significantly with the addition of a satellite campus at the former leprosy hospital location in nearby Shantipur.

The college runs BSc Nursing, MSc Nursing and a General Nursing program. The BSc Nursing is a four-year degree course. MSc Nursing is a two-years master’s course and General Nursing is three-year degree course. The college provides holistic development for the students.

Location Description:

The SALT/YAMENer will be placed in Dhamtari, close to Raipur, the capital of Chhattisgarh. The population of Dhamtari is around 500,000. Raipur airport is 2-hour drive away. The MCC office is located in Kolkata, about a 16hr train ride away.

Dhamtari falls under the hot temperature climate zone causing the district to experience very hot and dry conditions of up to 45 degree Celsius. Summer starts from April to mid-June with a rainy season due to south western monsoon occurring from mid-June to end of September. From the beginning of November to mid-February is the winter season.

The Mennonite Church in India has a significant presence in the district. The local Mennonite Church is very active. There is Sunday school on the campus every Sunday where one can be involved.

The SALT/YAMENer will stay with a host family or in a guest house.

Health related problems during one’s stay can be taken care of at DCH. There are well qualified doctors and other staff present.

The MCC office in Kolkata has been in the same location since 1962, having begun its presence in India in 1942 in response to the Bengal famine. Since then, MCC’s primary strategy in India has been to identify needs and to provide consultative and financial assistance to indigenous registered societies wishing to engage in relief, development, education and peace initiatives. Assistance is provided without regard to caste, colour or creed. Except for projects initiated by Mennonite churches in India and of the Church’s Auxiliary for Social Action (CASA) in response to disasters, MCC India confines its work to the five states nearest to Kolkata – West Bengal, Orissa, Bihar, Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh – which are also the poorest and most populated states in India. MCC India has a national staff of 23 and a North American country representative.

The MCC office is situated near Entally Market, one of the most interesting and exciting indoor/outdoor markets in the city. One will not be bored with a walk through the market, or in the streets surrounding the office. The SALTer/YAMENer will discover a variety of shops including pharmacies, tailor shops, outdoor barbers, the coconut seller on the corner; as well as men washing at open pipes; rickshaws, pedestrians, motorcyclists, taxis and private vehicles vying for street space; sleeping street dogs; families living and sleeping in front of buildings; mazes of tiny alleyways; snack and sweet shops of all descriptions. There is a cacophony of noise at most hours of the day or night. At night the street is brightly lit, and activity abounds until 10pm or later, depending on the season. That being said, the MCC Office itself is considered an oasis of quiet in a sea of confusion.

MCC India works closely with the Mennonite Christian Service Fellowship of India (MCSFI). MCSFI was founded in 1964 and is the service arm of nine Mennonite and BIC church conferences in India and Nepal. MCSFI provides fellowship and teaching opportunities within the church community for youth, women, men, pastors and leadership workshops. MCSFI also engages in service through churches in the community. Presently MCSFI is engaged in projects involving food security, HIV/AIDS awareness, as well as peace and conflict resolution. The administrative office of MCSFI is located in Korba, Chhattisgarh. Rev. Benjamin Nand is the Director of Mennonite Christian Service Fellowship of India.

Male and female friendships are understood differently in India than in other parts of the world. A SALT/YAMEN participant would need to spend time in mixed groups or with friends of the same gender and be very sensitive to cultural cues. Following the lead of Indian friends of the same age and gender will help to prevent cultural blunders.

Indian culture is extremely complex and mysterious to North Americans, with its layers and layers of unspoken rules pertaining to social protocol. The elderly, those in authority and teachers are generally held in high regard and deferred to with respect. In many ways Indians are extremely reserved. Nothing is quick or simple, black and white – but on the streets one experiences a fresh bluntness, vitality and an energy that defies description. India is a land of contrasts and contradictions, and those fortunate enough to spend a year in the rich tapestry of this pluralistic society called India, are most fortunate.

Challenges:

- The COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect countries around the world. While we remain hopeful that the pandemic will be under control by August 2021, to prioritize the well-being and limit risk to our participants and the local community, assessments of each assignment will continue on a regular basis. If it is deemed that an assignment is no longer viable, we will do our best to help you secure an alternative assignment.
- To live with an Indian host family might be challenging due to cultural differences. Indian families feel more responsible for guests and would certainly be very protective which might be very unusual or considered controlling for someone coming from North America.
• Indian food, although very delicious, but can be very spicy. Most might have to adjust to the spice food. Digestive upsets, unexplained viral fevers, and other illnesses are common, especially during the first 2-3 months of the assignment. Differences in diet and water source take time to adjust to.
• Dhamtari is situated on the National highway which makes it very dusty. Dhamtari is not for shy people. The SALT/YAMENer should be prepared to have his/her senses stimulated by crowds, hectic traffic, little personal space, good and bad smells, garbage, and diesel fumes. However, people are generally very welcoming and kind.
• Learning language and building cultural understanding will be slow and a challenge, requiring patience and dedication. Willingness to practice in real life and make mistakes is key.
• The hot climate can be quite uncomfortable. Most of the Indian families do not have air conditioning and use locally made air water coolers to cool the houses.
• Train travel should be viewed as an adventure and is an integral part of experiencing India to the fullest. With limited language skills, the participant may be nervous about travel, especially travelling alone, but they will find people to be kind and helpful.
• Perceptions of LGBTQ+ individuals are generally negative, and more strongly so in Christian communities. An openly LGBTQ+ Christian would likely face significant challenges with acceptance in this context.
• Managing frustration when things don't turn out as expected can be hard. While we do our best to determine and outline job responsibilities with our local partners, assignments really come alive based on the passions, skills, and gifts of an individual. Responsibilities may change or be refined over time in communication with supervisors to meet the ongoing changes and needs within a local context. As such, the greatest characteristics a participant can bring to an assignment are adaptability, flexibility, patience, a willingness to get your hands dirty, and humility to complete even mundane tasks.
• Assignments in India tend to be nebulous. For those who are very task oriented, it can be a challenge to recognize the importance of "being" instead of always "doing" as building healthy relationships and mutually transformative learning is an important part of the participant experience. We hope participants will come with a desire to walk alongside our local partners, rather than see the assignment solely as a way to "get things done".
